Our Privacy Undertaking

We will:

- Keep your personal data safe and private
- Not sell your data to 3rd parties
- Give you ways to manage and review how we interact with, and market to you at any time

Vink UK Limited trading as Stephen Webster Plastics (“us”, “we”, “our”) is committed to protecting and respecting your privacy.

Our privacy policy (together with our terms of use and any other documents referred to on it) sets out the basis on which any personal data we collect from you, or that you provide to us, will be processed by us. For the purposes of the General Data Protection Regulations, the data controller is Vink UK Limited, a company incorporated in the United Kingdom with company number 12207746 and a registered office of Holmes House, 24-30 Baker Street, Weybridge, Surrey KT13 8AU.

Our privacy policy applies to all companies (not necessarily named Stephen Webster Plastics) associated by way of ownership with the Vink UK Limited family of companies, websites in the Vink UK Limited family of companies, Vink online applications that run on smart phones, tablets, and other mobile devices (“apps”) as well as your use or access of any of our online services, content.

If you are an existing customer or supplier we already have limited personal information of yourself or of your staff, such as names and family names, contact details, birthdays, addresses, payment details, etc. Maintaining and processing this personal data is necessary for continued trade between the Vink UK Ltd family of companies and yourself.

By continuing to trade with Stephen Webster Plastics and its associated companies or by submitting any personal data, you agree to this collection, transfer, storing, maintenance and / or processing in so far as the data is necessary for the purpose for which it has been collected. We will take all steps reasonably necessary to ensure that your data is treated securely and in accordance with the GDPR.

We may from time to time change this privacy policy as the need arises from changes in European legislation or local country legislation. When such changes take place, you will be notified.

With the exception of personal data specified in this policy we may collect additional personal information from you, only if you have chosen to provide it to us.

Use made of the information

We may use information held about you for various reasons, for example:

- To carry out our obligations arising from any contracts entered into between you and us
- To comply with any legal and /or statutory obligation in terms of relevant municipal laws
- To ensure that content from our site is presented in the most effective manner for you and for your computer
- To provide you with information, products or services that you request from us or which we feel may interest you, where you have consented to be contacted for such purposes
- To allow you to participate in interactive features of our service(s), when you choose to do so
- To notify you about changes to our products and/or service(s)

If you are an existing customer, we may contact you by email, telephone, printed media or in other manners with information about goods and services similar to those which were the subject of a previous sale to you.

Stephen Webster Plastics does not share the personal information of its customers or suppliers and/or their employees with any third parties for the purposes of further marketing by those third parties.

The information we collect from you depends on what activities you are carrying out on our site(s), whether you are logged in or not and whether you are placing an order. For example, we may collect, process, maintain and store some, all, or any combination of the following personally identifiable information about you:

- Contact Name (First and family names)
- Company Name, registration number and tax related numbers
- Postal and / or physical address
- Payment details (which may include credit card or banking account information)
- Contact telephone number(s)
- Contact email address(es)
- Contact person(s) names

Examples of instances when such information may be collected, processed, maintained or stored are when you:

- Provide the information by completing online forms on our site: This includes information provided at the time of registering to use our site, purchasing our products, completing the "Contact Us" form. We may also ask you for information when you report a problem with our site
- Contact us: we may keep a record of that correspondence
- Complete surveys that we use for research purposes or to enhance our services: There will however be no obligation on your part to respond to them
- Complete transactions through our site and for the fulfilment of your orders
- Visit our site(s) and access resources we may collect data with the use of cookies (See below for more on Cookies)
- Trade with us, including requests for offers, quotes, etc. In such cases the collection of personal data will also potentially be necessary to complete the trade contract

Stephen Webster Plastics also relies on collecting data to further its legitimate interests as a basis of lawfulness of processing.

For Stephen Webster Plastics a legitimate interest is when we have a business or commercial reason to use your information. Even in these circumstances the legitimate interest must not unfairly go against your rights in terms of the GDPR. Generally, we will rely on legitimate business interest when collecting the following, or any combination of the following, categories of personal information:

When you provide personal information on one of our websites you:

- Are made aware that Stephen Webster Plastics or its associated companies may collect, maintain and process your personal information.
- Confirm that any information that you provide is true, accurate and complete, and that you will not deliberately provide any false information nor impersonate any other person or entity or misrepresent yourself or any other person or entity.

Our websites and apps are not intended for children under 16 years of age. We will not knowingly solicit data online from, or market online to, children under 16 years of age.

Automated decision making and profiling, and special categories of personal data

In terms of the GDPR you have a right to object against automated decision making and profiling based on special categories of data.

Special categories of data refer to personal data regarding ethnic or racial origin, trade union membership, criminal records, etc. Stephen Webster Plastics does not collect, store, maintain or process any of the special categories of data. If this status changes at any stage in the future, we will update this online privacy statement accordingly.

Automated decision making, and profiling refers to a process of allowing computer systems to generate outcomes that have legal effect. In general Stephen Webster Plastics does not make use of automated decision making and profiling in its relationship with trading partners. If this status changes at any stage in the future, we will update this online privacy statement accordingly and you will be notified.

Where we store your personal data

Any data that you provide to us is normally stored, processed and maintained in a country within the European Union (EU). While it is not normal practice for Stephen Webster Plastics to do so, data may be transferred to, and stored at, a destination outside the EU. In such cases we shall ensure that only countries, and / or third-party processors that are compliant with the EU regulations are used by using means prescribed by the EU - GDPR.

Similarly, data may also be processed by staff operating outside the EU who work for us or our associated service provider(s). Such staff may be engaged in, among other things, the fulfilment of your order, the processing of your payment details and the provision of support services.

Where we have given you (or where you have chosen) a password which enables you to access certain parts of our site, you are responsible for keeping this password confidential. We request that you do not share a password with anyone.

Unfortunately, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. Although we will do our best to protect any personal data you give us, we cannot guarantee the security of your data transmitted from your terminal to our site.

Once we have received your information, we will use strict procedures and security features to try to prevent unauthorized access. These include:

- Hashing
- SSL-encryption
- ISO 27001

We also take appropriate steps, such as encrypted passwords and recovering passwords via email without direct passwords details, to verify your identity before granting access to your personal profile.

Disclosure of your information

Regional companies in the Vink UK family may share your personal information for marketing purposes.

In order to further our legitimate interests, we may disclose your personal information to third parties:

- In the event that we sell or buy any business or assets, in which case we may disclose your personal data to the prospective seller or buyer of such business or assets;
- If Stephen Webster Plastics is, or substantially all of its assets are, acquired by a third party, in which case personal data held by it about its customers and suppliers and /or their employees will be one of the transferred assets.
- If we are under a duty to disclose or share your personal data in order to comply with any legal obligation, or in order to enforce or apply our terms of use and other agreements; or to protect the rights, property, or safety of us or our group, our customers and suppliers, or others.
- When furthering the legitimate interests of Stephen Webster Plastics and its associated family of companies by exchanging information with other companies and organizations for the purposes of fraud protection and credit risk reduction.

In all of the above cases we shall inform you that your personal information has been shared with a third party.
